Kathryn Dunne's Story

It is said that in Europe when a woman finds a remedy that does her great good, she keeps it a secret for she does not want any other woman to be able to rival her charms.

American women are different. When they find a good remedy, they want other women to get the benefit too, so they tell their friends.

Miss Kathryn Dunne of N. Y. City is one of these. She says, "When I was A Chicago special says: "Thomas in a weakened condition last spring R. and Mrs. Marshall, Indianapolis." I took Vinol with the greatest benefit my friends are now taking Vinol on account of the benefit I received."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

IN ONE YEAR.

This is a true story with a moral. He owned a fine little farm improved with a good house and barns and sheds, near a railroad station. There were cows and pigs and chickens a plenty.

But he grew discontented.

He wanted to go to the city, where the wheels go round and where the bright lights shine. It was slow out there. The white clouds drifted through the blue sky and the days were long and the chores seemed never done.

Secretly she longed to look into the big windows of the stores and go shopping like city folk and to the theater. And the children needed better advantages.

So he sold the little farm for less than it was worth and made a public sale of the stock and implements.

They went to the city. He had nothing particular in view, but fancied his little capital would buy a small business that would afford them a living. the means for education of the children and entertainment.

The money dwindled rapidly.

Rents were high, new clothes cost money and the cost of living was beyoud all calculation. Hitherto their living expenses had not been considered as part of the farm's revenues. Living "out of a basket" was differ-

They moved into cheaper quarters and he began a weary search for a job. The family clothes grew shabby. He was discouraged and she was fretful. There was friction. In short-

"Poverty came in at the door and love flew out at the window." He finally found a job as driver of a delivery wagon and the wages barely provided food and shelter. The wife took in washing in order to clothe the children so they might stay in school. All this in one year!

The last time I saw him I was amazed. As a prosperous young farmer he was in robust health and looked the world squarely in the face. Now he had the meager look of one who is poorly fed and lives in a squalid tenement and the air of one who, hopeless, drags himself to his task. I did not see the wife.

Indianapolis, March 27.-The Repub-Hean state convention was controlled by friends of President Taft, who named C. W. Fairbanks, Harry S. New, James E. Watson and Joseph D. Oliver as delegates-at-large to the Chicago convention. The only test vote in the convention was over the substitution of the minority report of the committee on credentials for the majority report that seated the Taft delegates, and the minority report was tabled by a vote of 772 to 667, showing that the Taft men had a majority of 105

Roosevelt Slate Named. For two hours before the convention met Edwin M. Lee was in conference with leading Roosevelt delegates urging them to leave the convention as soon as the majority report of the committee on credentials should be adopted, and organize another convention and select delegates to Chicago with a view to carrying the contest to the national convention. Many of the Roosevelt leaders objected to such a program. Horace Stillwell, the most aggressive of the Roosevelt leaders, refused to consider such a proposition. In a heated discussion he said to Lee: "I'll be damned if I'll bolt to satisfy you or anybody else." But for the earnestness of the forty or fifty men engaged in it, the holding of a "rump" convention after the regular convention had adjourned, would have been laughable. At Lee's urgent demands the rump convention was held as the delegates were leaving and when everything was in great confusion. About forty men wearing Roosevelt badges assembled in one corner of the hall as delegates were filing out after the convention had adjourned and held a meeting lasting less than three minutes. After shooting through a slate on a vive voce vote there was a hasty exit from the hall by the Roosevelt men.

Alva Reser of Tippecanoe county was chairman. A motion was made that Albert J. Beveridge, Edwin M. Lee, Charles H. Campbell and Frederick Landis be elected delegates-atlarge to the national convention. The handful of Roosevelt men yelled "aye." and a motion to adjourn was carried with a whoop.

NEW YORK TURNS ROOSEVELT DOWN

Colonel Got But Seven Delegates

LITTLE EVIDENCE OF STRENGTH

In State.

In New York City There Is but One Delegate Accredited to the Oyster Bay Candidate, Whose Managers Claim the "Plain People" Were Not Given a Chance-First Primary Under New Law Almost Was a Fizzle.

New York, March 27 .- More or less confusion marked New York's first primary election under the new law the chief factor of which was the failure of the company which has printed the ballots for years to deliver ballots, chiefly Republican, to the polling places. The Roosevelt committee insisted that this was done by the board of elections under the domination of the Republican machine, to deprive the plain people of a chance of voting for Roosevelt by keeping the ballots away from them, but President Britt of the board of elections and officials of the printing company said that the "mixup" was solely the fault of the Roosevelt committee, because they tied up the printers with court orders for a week after the printing of the ballots should have been under way. Part of the ballots which had been printed had to be thrown away.

Hundreds of polling places had no ballots at 4 o'clock, the hour for opening the polls, but toward night automobiles were rushed away from the office of the printing company, and before 6 o'clock, the hour when primary voting usually sets in to any extent, the polling places were supplied. Under the primary law all voters who are supplied with ballots by 9 o'clock, the closing hour, must be permitted to vote them, so it is not likely that anyone who wanted to vote did not get a chance before the polls closed.

While some of the ballots were only four feet long, the majority ran to ten feet, and the Democratic ballot in the Twenty-third assembly district was fourteen feet. In many polling places the voters had a tussle with these ballots before they could read and mark them, and in more than one instance voters got them tangled up around their feet and the pasted sections of the ballots came apart. In such circumstances they were provided with new ballots. The long ballots were in four pasted sections and the majority in three

No Roosevelt delegates to Chicago were elected in this county, and in the whole city only one. This is not counting the two uninstructed Roosevelt delegates who were elected in the Twenty-fourth district unopposed. In New York county, in fact, there was little evidence of a Roosevelt vote. swelled to 246.

Seems to Be All One Way. Washington, March 27.-Taft headquarters has issued a statement claiming at least seventy-nine of the New York state delegates exclusive of the delegates-at-large. This allowed Roosevelt only seven delegates from that state. The Taft people, after hearing dent's total of delegates now as 242, as compared with twenty-four for Roosevelt. With the delegates-at-large from New York the Taft total will be

A TEST VOTE

Came Within Three of Unseating Senator Stephenson.

Washington, March 27.—The senate on a test vote lacked but three votes of adopting a resolution that would have unseated the oldest member of that body, Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin. The test vote came on a resolution declaring that Senator Stephenson was not duly and legally elected. The resolution received twentyseven votes, with twenty-nine against it. The situation developed in the senate by this vote has filled Senator Stephenson's friends with alarm. It is expected that Senator Stephenson's case will be disposed of before the senate adjourns today. The outcome is admitted to be doubtful.

As decisive a beating as ring followers ever saw was handed to Jack Denning by Mike Gibbons at New York.

THE REPUBLICAN

One Year in Advance..... WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1912.

The big struggle among Indiana Republicans over the presidential nomination is about over. The Roosevelt admirers put up a strong fight and made a splendid showing in the Indianapolis and other conventions. They were entitled to their preference and to fight for their candidate, but Taft has won the large part of the delegates. In some places as is generally the case there may have been some unfairness in the selection of delegates, probably by both sides, but men who are in politics have learned to expect this. The indications point to the almost certain renomination of President Taft. But whoever is to be the nominee it is time for Republicans of the state to forget their differences and to line up for the real and most important contest. To insure the prosperity of the country during the next four years the Republican party must win and Indiana has her part to do in accomplishing this. Republicans are more interested in the welfare of their party and the country than in the mere pleasure of seeing some one win the nomination. The expectation and hope of members of the opposing party that the Indianapolis contest would leave a bitterness which would be lasting will not be realized. Men who were at the convention witnessed been earlier manifested and heard the lieved he has gone to the Riviera. general expression of delegates that they will be for the nominee. Here and elsewhere Republicans will fall in line and it is the duty of all to encourage, a spirit of harmony.

The turmoil among local Democrats occasioned by the defeat of Burkart for county chairman, continues. No Tariff Board Finds Rate Is explanations will be accepted by Burkart and his friends and the politicians in the county outside of Seymour are being dragged into the bitter row and charges of a well arranged conspiracy are being made.

At the Democratic county primary Jennings, Kasting, Hays and Branaman, the Seymour candidates, were handed back seat tickets, Burkart was sent back Monday to keep them company and now it is said to be on congress proceed to a revision of this the program to if possible hand schedule on the basis of the board's Swails his permit to remain in private finding.

The Hatfield Clan Willing to Trail Virginia Outlaws.

Bluefield, W. Va,. March 27.-The Hatfields of West Virginia are willing to go into Virginia and assist in the search for the Allens, who shot up the Carroll county court, according to an announcement credited to Captain Hatfield, eldest son of "Devil Anse" Hatfield, leader of the clan.

He declared he would organize a band of a dozen West Virginia men and trail the Allens if Governor Mann of Virginia desired his assistance.

Captain Hatfield denounced the Allen outrage at Hillsville, and pointed to the peaceful termination of the trial of his brother, Willie Hatfield, who was sentenced a few weeks ago to serve six years on a charge of second degree murder.

Ten of the Hatfields were in court when the sentence was pronounced, but made no demonstration.

TRADE COURT OPENS

New York Tribunal Revived After Lapse of 17 Years.

Costly Trials Are Eradicated-No Jury or Lawyer Required and Appeal From Decisions of Arbitrators Not Permitted.

New York.-The business men's court of honor, a tribunal without judge, lawyer or jury, yet recognized by the laws of the state, has been revived in New York after a lapse of 17 by The Andrews Drug Co. years. The court is conducted by the chamber of commerce to settle disputes among merchants, and, so far as is known here, there is no other court like it in the world.

In 1738 the business men's court was established and for more than a century merchants adjusted their disputes there. In 1874 the legislature voted a salary of $10,000 a year to the official arbitrator of the court, and when this salary was discontinued in 1895 the body passed out of existment was begun looking to the re- Isaac E. Fush of Norman Station. ence. Several months ago a moveestablishment of the tribunal, with been heard before it.

To try the average case requires an expenditure of only $50 or $60, compared with the heavy expenses of trials in the regularly constituted courts of the state. The court is in charge of the chamber of commerce's committee on arbitration. The committee selects from the membership of the chamber a list of men qualified to serve as arbitrators of disputes. who are sworn in by a justice of the supreme court.

When any issue is referred to the committee for settlement the disputants are permitted to select the arbitrator. If they are unable to agree upon one each is permitted to choose an arbitrator, the two thus choose an arbitrator, the two thus chosen to select a third.

There are no appeals from the court. It has no means of enforcing its decrees, relying upon the fact that merchants will not injure their reputation by repudiating their written agreement to accept the rulings.

In addition to the lessening of expenses and saving of time, it is said

Plan in Untying a Matrimonial Knot.

Louisville, Ky .- Solomon's rule of reason was invoked in divorce court here in unraveling a knot of conflictin J. M. Fleetwood's family returned to ing evidence, when John and Margaret Wetzelberger, who had lived together thirty-five years and reared a dozen children, both applied for a decree. All the girls in the family allied themselves on the side of their mother; the boys were divided.

In granting a decree to Mrs. Wetzelberger, the court said it was his opinfon that "daughters, as a rule, have a better opportunity to know the condition in a family," and he deemed it inconsistent with the woman's long years of faithfulness in rearing the large family needlessly to abandon her according to science, are the things cuse him of cruelty.

Out Boy and Finally Rescue

Elko, Cal.-Although he was buried for several hours beneath tons of snow, the small son of Dan Ward of Jarbridge, was rescued alive after hours of digging by the entire populace of Jarbridge and Paviak villages.

The avalanche of snow came down the canyon between the two towns without warning. The little fellow was playing on the hillside and heard the roar of the snow as it started far above him. Instinct told him to conceal himself and he dropped down bemeath a huge bowlder. The snow passed over him, filling the canyon and completely burying him.

A small aperture was left on the rock and this enabled the lad to get air and he was located by his cries. He was uninjured.

"In December, 1911, the 56 men employed in the farm machinery division received an average pay of $4.85 a man; the 205 men in the shoe factory received an average for the month of $4.03 a man; the 114 men in the support division (cooks, waiters, barbers, etc.) received an average of $4.63

Taking up the suggestion of Governor Eberhart that some means be provided for state aid to families left in need by prisoners committed to workhouses and the state prison, the report, referring only to the latter, says that "but five per cent, of the men in state prison have families they have left in need of state aid."

"This is because the prisoners as a whole are men of roving characters, who have no settled home and who, accordingly, have no one dependent upon them.

"In this connection," the report continues, "a law enacted in 1909 is of special interest. It provides for state aid for dependent families of men in the state prison. Families are now being paid as high as $15 a month under this humane 1909 law."

Every pore and gland of the skin is employed in the necessary work of preserving its smooth, even texture, softening and cleansing it and regulating the temperature of our bodies. This is done by an evaporation through each tiny outlet, which goes on continually day and night. When the blood becomes infected with humors and acids a certain percentage of these impurities also pass off with the natural evaporation, and their sour, fiery nature irritates and inflames the skin, and dries up its natural oils, causing pimples, boils, pustules or some itching rash, or hard, scaly skin affection. S. S. S. cures skin troubles of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its nutritious, red corpuscles, and enriches it in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased by the exuding acrid matter, is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S., the greatest of blood purifiers, expels all foreign matter and surely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum and all other diseases and affections of the skin. It removes pimples, blackheads, and other unsightly blemishes from the skin and assists in restoring a good complexion. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired free to all who write. ## YOU CAN HAVE HEALTHY HAIR

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. A Harmless Remedy That Makes the Hair Grow.

What a pity it is to observe so many people with thin and faded hair and then realize that the most of these people might have a fine, healthy head of hair if they would but use the simple "sage tea" of our grandmothers, combined with other ingredients for restoring and preserving the hair. No one, young or old, need have gray hair, weak, thin or falling hair, dandruff or any trouble of the sort if they would but use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. On the contrary, it is possible to have healthy, vigorous hair, of perfect color, by a few applications of this remarkable preparation.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remery quickly removes dandruff, leaves the sealp clean and healthy, promotes the growth of the hair and restores the natural color of the hair which has become faded or gray. It is a clean, wholesome dressing, which may be used at any time and with perfect safety. Don't neglect your hair. Start to-day with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agents, Andrews Drug Co.

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best.

Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more bealing than anything you ever used.

In the toilet-to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. "You don't mean to tell me that all those volumes I had boxed for Australia and which I thought lost on the Lord Nelson came ashore on your little coral isle?"

Came ashore on his coral isle! The girl caught at the words. Of course he had been saved-he who had saved her from the wild sea. She had realized that after their last meeting at Strathorn House. But how?

"Exactly!" said John Steele succinct-

"Nothing so pleasant, I assure you." John Steele answered Sir Charles shortly. Then, with a few words, he painted a picture uncompromisingly. The girl shrank back. Perhaps she wished she had not come. This, truly, was no fairy tale, but a wild, savage drama, primeval, the picture of a soul battling with itself on the little, lonely isle. She could see the hot, angry sun, feel its scorching rays, hear the hissing of the waves. All the man's strength for good, for fil, went into tress, the story. The isle became as the pit of Acheron.

"When the man woke," he had said. "he cursed the sea for bringing him, as he thought, nothing. One desire tormented him. It became intolerable. Day after day he went down to the ocean, but the surf only leaped in deof its extraordinary cleansing, healing rision. For the thousandth time, he cursed it, the isle to which he was bound. Weeks passed, until, almost mad through the monotony of the long hours, one day he inadvertently picked up a book. The brute convict could just read. Where, how he ever learned, I forget. He began to pick out the words. After that"-

Through the long months, the long years, the man had fought for knowledge as he had always fought for anything-with all his strength, passien,

"Incredible! By Jove!" She heard Sir Charles' voice, awed and admiring. "I am glad to have had your confidence and-and-tell me, how did you happen to light on the law for special study and preparation?"

"As a boy!" John Steele repeated the words almost mechanically. "My parents died when I was a child. They came of good stock-New England.' He uttered the last part of the sentence involuntarily-stopped. "I was bound out, was beaten. I fought, ran away. In lumber camps, the drunken riffraff cursed the new scrub boy, on the Mississippi the sailors and stevedores kicked him because the mate kicked them. Everywhere it was the same. The boy learned only one thing -to fight. Fight or be beaten!

"In a wordly sense I prospered after I was rescued-in New Zealand, in Tasmania. Fate, as if to atone for having delayed her favors, now lavished them freely. Work became easy. A mine or two that I was lucky enough to locate yielded and continues to yield unexpected returns."

"And then, having fairly, through your own efforts, won a place in the world, having conquered fortune, why did you return to England knowing the risk that some one of these fellows like Gillett, the police agent.

It was over at last. They were gone, Sir Charles and Captain Forsythe. Their hand clasps still lingered in his For a few moments now John Steele remained motionless, listening to their departing footsteps, then turned and gazed around him.

Never had his rooms appeared more cheerless, more barren, more empty No: not empty. They were filled with memories. The man squared his shoulders and looked out again from the window toward that small bit of the river he could just discern. Once he had gazed at it when its song seemed to be of the green banks and flowers it had passed by, but that had been on a fairer occasion-at the close of a joyous spring day. How it came back to him, the solemn court of justice, the turned to look back! It was but for a cure. ### THE SONG RENEWED

By Rev. Parley E. Zartmann, D. D., Secretary of Extension Department, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT-And when the burnt offering began the song of the Lord began also .-II Chron. 29:27.

This statement occurs in midst of a drathe history of the Children of Israel. Chapter 28 tells of Ahaz, wicked king who who caused the hovah to cease in the temple in Jerusalem, who closed the doors the temple, and who gave the sacred vessels of the temple as tribute to foreign kings whom he hoped to appease. Chapter 29 tells of Hezikiah, the good king, who Indianapolis, Columbus & Southern required the priests to sanctify themselves and cleanse the temple, who brought back the sacred vessels, and who restored the customary routine of sacrifice and service within the temple. Chapter 30 describes the revival which took place throughout the entire land following the cleansing of the temple and the restoration of the sacrifice. The background is dark enough-a polluted temple, the service neglected, God forsaken by the people, the vessels of holiness given away for unholy purposes, and the courts of the temple.

Music was a prominent part in the part of Christian life. No one has so much right to sing as the man or woman who has been redeemed by the precious blood of Jesus Christ; no one can know such joy as the one who has a sense of forgiveness.

There are two or three very plain and practical lessons which emerge from the reading of the chapters connected with the text.

1. God cannot use an unclean thing. So the vital question is, "Is my heart right with God?" God does not ask right with God?" God does not ask with trains of the B. & O. and Southern for golden vessels, God does not ask Indiana Railroads for all points east and You.

You will also receive Christ may well take the place of the Psalmist and say, "Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting."

2. God cannot give power to an unyielded life. The temple in Jerusalem, magnificent and costly though it was, did not have the visible manifestation of God's presence until it was entirely dedicated to him. There is a peculiar sense in which it is true; "He hath filled the hungry with good things, and the rich he hath sent empty away."

3. Power is to be claimed only upon the conditions of a clean heart and a yielded life.

Perhaps you have been a Christian Louisville and all intermediatte points many years, and yet for a long time at 6:00, 8:00, 10:00 a. m., 12:00 m., there has been no song in your soul; •1:00, 3:00, 5:00, 7:00, •9:00, •11:00 prayer has been a burden, the word of God has had no meaning to you, and service has been irksome. Why? It may be:

1. Neglected prayer. God means prayer to be the greatest power in the spiritual world, and although Christians know how to do scores of other things, and although churches use numerous agencies for making the work successful, yet we have lost the

2. Neglect of God's word. Many a of the word of God which is meant, not only for his food, but for his guidance. So many of us object to

3. Lack of forgiveness or apology. If we are too stubborn to forgive peoto ask forgiveness of those whom we Ly have injured, God pity us, for there Ly Beehunter can be no song in the soul until we Ly Linton Ly Jasony'le

4. Unconfessed and unforsaken sin. This may seem small to the sinner, but sin which is not confessed and forsaken, closes the eyes against the beauties of heaven, shuts the ears Lv against the songs of heaven, and bars Lv the way to the soul that would enter | Ar in. More than that, sin drives joy out of the Christian life.

5. Lack of complete surrender. This is the real meaning of the text, for the burnt offering indicated that everything was given up to God: and it is only as we make a complete abandonment of ourselves to God, that he fills us with joy in believing and happiness in Christian service. May it not be that the years of our Christian life have been unfruitful and joyless, and void of music, better have kept back part of the price have haid to God? Do we not know that there has been a lack of complete surrender, and complete abandonment to him?

DEFENDANTS GO OUT ACQIUT

After Ten Years of Legal Warfare the Chicago Meat Packers Find Themselves Guiltless of the Charge of Violating the Sherman Anto-Trust Law by Organizing and Maintaining a Combination in Restraint of Trade.

Chicago, March 27 .- According to the finding of the jury in the case of ten Chicago packers who have been on trial since Dec. 6 on charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust law, there is no beef trust in the United

The verdict of acquittal, eight words, "We, the jury, find the defendants not guilty," was returned in Federal Judge Carpenter's court after three ballots, and is the climax of ten years of legal battle between the government and the leaders of the country's packing industry.

The outcome of the case had an immediate effect on listed stocks of the packers. Swift & Co. stock, even an hour before the verdict was announced, advanced on the local exchange 2% points. The buying is said to have been for the account of the packing house interests, and a further gain was scored when the stock went to 109, a rise of six points over the close Coincidentally, though the packers went soaring at the yards and prices Min. for the dressed product were advanced. Hog prices went to the high point of the year and cattle were considerably higher. The packers, however, in-"You have read, of course, about sist that supply and demand causesscarcity in the eastern markets, and the approach of the Easter seasonwere responsible for the advance in both markets.

> The first ballot taken by the jury was eight to four for acquittal, the second ten to two for acquittal, and the third was the verdict of not guilty. Government Attorney Wilkerson declined to make a statement. Attorney John S. Miller, beaming smiles, said: The verdict of not guilty was expectbeen presented. At no time was serious consideration given a verdict of

The government ought to be satisfled. This ought to put an end to the attacks on this industry.'

The trial was one of the longest criminal trials in the history of the federal courts. It began Dec. 6, 1911, "When I went to jail wimmen was and introduced 1,488 documents in eviand the government about $100,000.

AN ABLE WITNESS

Mr. Parsons Not Handicapped by His Eighty-Three Years.

New York, March 27.-In his own defense John E. Parsons, the aged of conspiracy under the criminal section of the Sherman law in connection took the stand at the trial in the United States district court. Herbert Parsons was also a witness called by the defense, and the interesting spectacle was presented of father following son

With a voice that sounded very clearly throughout the courtroom, Mr. Parsons, sr., described the charge against him in the indictment as being a conspirator as being absolutely without foundation. It has been the conthe case that with H. O. Havemeyer and Gustave E. Kissel both dead, Mr. Parsons is the chief surviving actor in the alleged conspiracy, and therefore it is likely that at the close of his direct testimony he will be subjected ready to cross swords with the best of cross-examiners despite his eightythree years. His memory did not appear to falter.

Waters Still Rising.

Evansville, Ind., March 27 .- The Ohio river here continues to rise at the rate of almost one foot a day and the stage is now over forty-nine feet The danger line here is thirty-five feet. Indications are the river will continue to rise all week. Enough water is now in sight to give Evansville a stage of forty-four feet.

Following the explosion afterdamp pervaded the entire workings, and it was impossible for any immediate rescue work to be begun. Because of the deadly afterdamp, in which no human being can live for an instant. it was impossible for the rescuers to get further than a few hundred feet from the opening.

The Jed mine employed in all about 150 men, both whites and negroes, who with their families, comprised practically the entire population of Jed.

FAR-REACHING ACT

For First Time in History Minimum Wage Principle Is Legalized.

London, March 27.-Following the breakdown of the negotiations for a settlement of the coal strike, the govby a vote of 213 to 48. The bill will be pushed through the house of lords by special arrangements with the Unionist leaders and will receive at once the royal assent. Thus the principle of the minimum wage will become a law for the first time in history.

It is still impossible to say how far the measure will operate in effecting the main object of starting again the mining and other industries which have been closed down by the strike.
